Judy,

I want to wish you the best of luck in the Junior year. I think maybe you'll need it. It has been fun having you in P.C.H. as a fellow student. We don't know each other very well but maybe next year we can become great friends. I might add that you have a sweet smile. I am sure you will succeed in the Junior year.

God bless you in every way.

Your friend always

FOREWORD

Midway in the month of September when everyone is wondering who will compete in the World Series, and the football season is getting underway, boys and girls from eighteen outlying communities gather in the green-walled auditorium of Pomona Catholic to begin another year of formal education. Enkindled within this group of students is a spark which will soon develop into a glowing fire known as school spirit. It is this spirit that moves with us through Pomona Catholic from 8:30 to 3:00 each day. We know this spirit in the hustled chapel call each morning and in the classes, assemblies, rallies, and track meets. We know this spirit on Friday nights as we yell our throats dry watching our Spartans match forces with rival teams. This spirit is the driving force that manifests itself in the mission drive, in the Homecoming dance, in the student-sponsored Fiesta, and even, if you will, in the screeching of brakes on Williams Street at the end of the school day. School Spirit is that something intangible, yet intensely real, that is poured into day after day of our school life. It is this spirit that the Fidelian staff has selected as a theme for this year's annual.

The 1957 Fidelian salutes the spirit of Pomona Catholic!

Yours Fred Monte

CLASS OF 1957

Love, Judie

The incomparable Class of 1957 leaves the halls of their Alma Mater with an aura of greatness unmatched in the annals of Pomona Catholic. The magnificent spirit of this group imparted to the entire student body an awareness of the fine traditions of the school and bolstered their school spirit. The Class of '57 was in the front rank when it came to speech and drama. Seniors held monopoly on the Spring operetta, the Christmas play, and participated successfully in inter-school debate bouts. Social functions of the class began in early Fall with the Sock Hop sponsored as part of the senior-freshmen orientation program, and the fabulous senior Christmas formal "Winter Wonderland." January hurried speedily by with mid-term exams, retreat and snapping shutters for cap and gown yearbook pictures. Spring brought a heavy harvest of scholarships, National Merit awards and oratory trophies. The year disappeared too soon, bringing time for cap and gown measurements, and plans for Baccalaureate exercises. Last roll call and the Senior Class of 1957 walked proudly down the aisle toward the Baldachim altar to receive diplomas for four years of study, prayer and play at Pomona Catholic.

SOUNDS OF A GAVEL are heard as ASB prexy, Paul Caringella, calls the weekly Student Senate meeting to order. Here school projects and activities are promoted and student problems analyzed with the help of the class officers and homeroom representatives.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS . . .

foster unity through competent leadership.

PAUL CARINGELLA, ASB president, addressing a student assembly

Under the leadership of Paul Caringella, ASB President, the Student Council laid the foundation for a successful school year. As their first assignment, they welcomed 250 freshmen on the opening day of school, and conducted them through orientation activities in the first week of school. Magazine and Fidelian sponsorship drives, and an ASB Fiesta were a few of its successful projects. Taking an interest in the spiritual advancement of PCH, the council backed the Principal, Sister Mary Benilda, in obtaining permission from Father Thomas P. English to have daily Mass celebrated in the chapel. It became obvious this year that the student government constitution drawn up five years ago for a small enrollment school became obsolete and badly in need of revision. A committee headed by senior members of the council directed discussion groups in the various homerooms which finally resulted in a completely reorganized constitution. The student government this year enjoyed the very able leadership of officers: Paul Caringella, president; Rosemary Sabel, secretary; Alban Moreno, vice-president.

EFFICIENT OFFICERS, Rosemary Sabel, secretary; and Alban Moreno, vice-president, examine agenda for the next student assembly.

DEAR STAFF:

Here it is—the last deadline. I never thought the day would come when I'd regret turning in the last bit of copy, but for some reason this time that old sadistic satisfaction is missing.

We've had our ups and downs of course, but we've had quite a few kicks too. Looking over the odds and ends here in the Lance file I've come across quite a few mementos of hectic days long past . . . a collection of thirty-five assorted unprintable poems by Tony Rogers, a number of short and likewise unprintable philosophical essays by Dave O'Dell, three lipsticks and a bottle of nail polish (women!), Caringella's March Sports page dummy (It's four inches wide and thirteen inches long), ten sheets of transparent pink typing paper, 5 pens, 7 pencils, 3 erasers, 11 sticks of chewing gum (oops!) . . .

Well, as I said before—this is it. Thanks a million times from the bottom of my nervous little heart for putting up with my outrageous deadlines, etc. God bless you all.

Dear Teachers and Students:

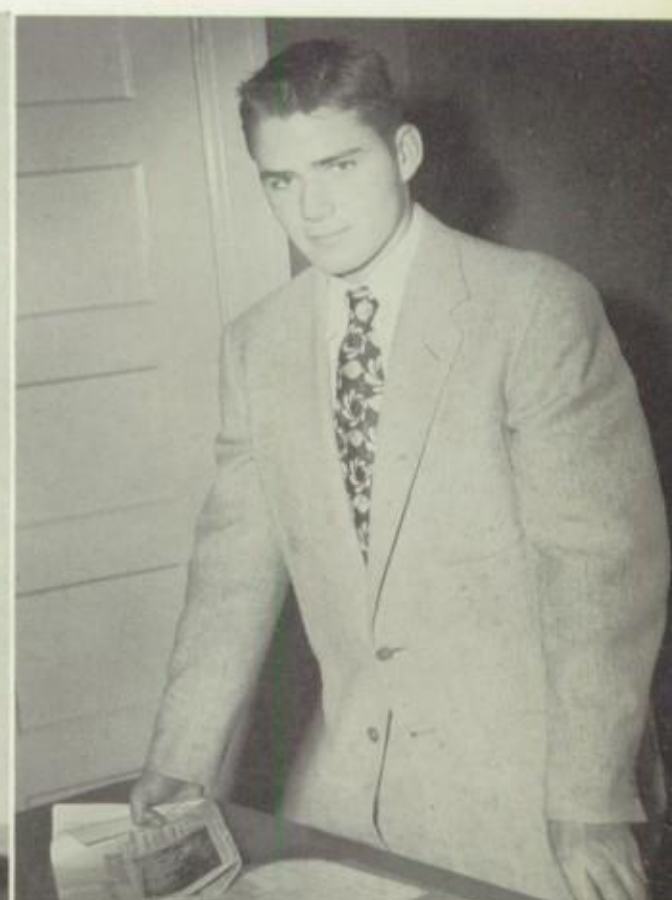

The annual has finally come out. As you turn the pages of the Fidelian you will recall the many happy things that have occurred to us, things that are already slipping into the shadows. It is these moments that the staff of the Fidelian attempted to preserve. We are proud to have been selected as historians of the school for the year 1956-57. Every page of the yearbook represents the efforts of many people, and long after-school sessions for a troop of untiring headline and copywriters, typists and layout artists: Tom Bernier, Floyd McCready, Carol Riley, Colleen Wilson, Bertha Thompson, Linda Kasper, Sally McDermott. To the members of the faculty who spent many hours working with us, we extend a sincere God bless you. To the indomitable journalism class, contributors par excellence, and to all who have made this annual possible through cooperation in the sponsorship drive, we express our sincere appreciation.

INTEREST IN SOCIAL and cultural backgrounds of ancient Rome led students to form the Latin Club under the sponsorship of Sister Mary Aloysianne. Officers are: J. Blanchard and R. Roelle, counsules; L. Porter, tribune; and R. Wilson, quaestor.

Once a Weeping Willow stood by a stream;
Its scenic beauty was like a dream.
She hung low, but gracefully stood;
She longed to tell her secrets
If only she could.
Her body was scarred, but for a good cause,
For you see, when lovers would walk,
There they would pause.

To express their love, they would often cut deep,
But she, very understanding, would often still weep.
Her body held many sayings, but always she knew
The best-loved one was that saying, "I love you."
Madame Willow stands by her stream to this day;
She is Cupid's Helper, as you'll hear many say.

POETRY AWARD WINNERS

LOVE

Innocent and inspiring as an infant's cry,
Scenic and simple as the summer sky,
Melodious and merry as the song of a bird,
Tender and true as a mother's word,
Strong and stable as a martyr's belief,
Beautiful and bright as an autumn leaf,
Pure and perfect as heaven above,
Only this then can be love.
— Shirley Larivee

GOD AND THE SEA

Quiet is the beautiful dark sea,
As it ripples slightly in the night.
The honor for this falls on Him,
The One above who makes everything right.
It obeys Him with glee;
For it knows He is the one with might.
And rolls swiftly, as you see,
A beautiful sight at night.
— Sandra Carlson

YOUTH

The test of youth is the fight he makes,
How hard he daily tries;
The way the bumps and knocks he takes
Without a lot of sighs.

Any student can sit back and smile
When all the answers he does know,
But the one who works to make the trial
Will win the fight o'er any foe.

— Sue Stevens

THE FUTURE

The future, what does it contain?
Can it be the glory of fame;
Or is it a housewife with bowl.
I do not know.
For it is just an unseen world
Of fantasies which will never Gather dust.

— Barbara Larsen

N.H.S.P.A. SELECTIONS

Guess who??

ERE ETERNITY

Not minutes, nor endless seconds of time,
Shall surpass this eternal doom.
Shadows approach like the end of a rhyme,
As the fateless hour appears in gloom.

When the lifelong span endeth,
And the breath of the body be ceased,
The uncleaned soul shall descendeth,
Where suffering is increased.

Hope, not despair, eases the intensity
For as the soul is being freed,
So shall it live in eternity
Within the house for which it does bleed.

And so until the Judgment arrives
This place of pyre shall comprise.
— Myra Rambo

HIS EMINENCE, James Cardinal McIntyre with justly-proud pastor, Rev. Thomas P. English, pose in front of the newly dedicated St. Joseph Church. Two natives of the parish, Rev. David Clark (pictured at right) and Rev. Paul Peterson acted as deacon and subdeacon for the Mass.

Thirteen hundred parishioners including 70 members of the clergy witnessed the colorful pageantry of the dedication services and participated in the High Mass celebrated by Rev. Thomas P. English, pastor of the parish.

Twenty-nine Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus composed the guard of honor for the Cardinal. Red-robed choristers from Pomona Catholic High School Glee Club joined the Adult Choir of the parish to sing the incomparably beautiful "Missa Choralis" for the dedication Mass.

The liturgy, solemnity and colorful pageantry all blended to form a spectacle which no participant will ever forget.

Three days of spiritual rearmament offered a complete relief from the whirl of everyday campus life. Students welcomed Father Keith and Father Henry C.P., retreat masters, who conducted separate conferences for upper and lower classmen. A steadfast observance of the retreat silence was notable this year during on-campus intermissions.

WAY OF THE CROSS

"TRUST IN YOUTH" was this year's theme for National Catholic Youth Week which began on the Feast of Christ the King. Pomona Catholic students participated in Youth Week activities by receiving Holy Communion in their own parishes and by urging other teenagers not attending Catholic schools to join them in the Communion Crusade. Art class students blueprinted ideals and slogans which were stressed throughout the week-long observance. Contributing to the display were R. Yoder, B. Larsen, S. Gomez, M. Fenwick, R. Sanchez, T. Stowe and B. Strathman.

Dedicated solely to encouraging a fervid devotion to the Holy Mother of God, the Sodality has become an outstanding Catholic action group at Pomona Catholic.

Starting the year with a reorganization of its structure, and drive for membership, the Sodality under the leadership of Moderator, Sister Mary Laudine and prefects Emily Jessup and Charles Hodell, sponsored numerous ASB activities and promoted spiritual accord among the student body. Daily recitation of the rosary, canned foods drive for hungry families at Christmas time and the Advent wreath ceremonies during the pre-Christmas season were Sodality-sponsored projects. Mary's Hour and The Sodality forum in Los Angeles were enthusiastically backed by Spartan Sodalists.

Combining social and spiritual programs, the Sodality Ball climaxed a fruitful year of devotion and activity.

SCIENCE FAIR

"THE FORMATION OF CRYSTALS," a science exhibit by Paul Palanos, junior, won for him a four year scholarship to the University of Portland, Oregon, at the Mount Saint Mary's Science Fair.

SCIENCE WINNERS Bob Potenza, Linda Trueb, and Cathy Beck examine Bob's dye exhibit. Linda and Cathy took the second and third prizes at the Pomona Catholic fair while Bob earned first in the chemistry divisions.

Atoms, explosives and architecture displayed in the auditorium drew the attention of the scientific-minded toward the second annual Science Fair held at P.C.H. on March 21. A panel of judges, headed by Sister Benilda, evaluated each entry and assigned blue ribbon awards. Serving as judges for the science event were: Ellsworth Green, head of the science department at Bonita High School; Thomas Finsterbach, industrial relations office employee; Paul Butler of the engineering department at Pomona Convair; and Ralph Robinson, another Convair scientist. The five choice displays were forwarded to the Mount Saint Mary's Science Fair where Paul's exhibit took first place. The Fair was under the direction of Sister M. Ermenilda and Sister M. Thomasette.

AWARDS, AWARDS

HOLDING TOP RANK in the 1956 Bank of America Achievement Awards program was Paul Caringella, student body luminary, who ranked second place in the state-wide program in the fields of science and mathematics. Three other students from high schools of this area were among the award winners. Pictured are: John Lounsbury, chairman of the judging committee; Winston Dean, a student from Chaffey High School, and Paul Caringella.

THE CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA added to their numerous civic accomplishments by contributing $100.00 to the high school scholarship fund. Representing the club in the presentation of the check to Sister Benilda are Mesdames A. Kvech and Wm. Davidson.

POMONA CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION was officered this year by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodell, Mrs. Theresa Bowman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert McDonald, recording secretary; Mrs. Margaret Daley, treasurer; and Mrs. Anne Rowe, historian. Pictured addressing the Pomona Catholic High School Association is Chaplain, Rev. James Murphy.

"Birth of a King," an original play written by the drama class, was presented to the students and their parents as part of Christmas week observance at PCH. The initial scene of the play, a dramatization of an extract from Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Men," featured in the roles of magi: B. Cahill, C. Hodell, J. Stewart, and T. Sidenfaden. Members of the supporting cast were: C. Gavran, M. Fouquette, S. Larivee, C. Ouellette in the roles of Judean women. The musical background to the play was supplied by the Glee Club under the direction of Sister Mary Celine.

The curtains parted, the lights dimmed and "Harvey" debuted before a captivated audience, climaxing two months of hectic hustle for costumes, rehearsals and sets.

Directed by the Rev. John Alvarez, the comedy "Harvey," concerns the adventures of a lovable psychopath who sees a six-foot rabbit. Pictured below are leading players: M. Marcus, B. Brydon, J. Snyder, T. Rupp. Bottom picture: M. Lower, J. Pschick, J. Wasserburger.

"I'M NOT TO BE TAKEN LITERALLY, MY DEAR," states Maureen Greene, better known to "Mocking Bird" audiences as the Marquis de Villebois. Listening are: Dave Schulte, John Stewart, and Linda Cox.

Drama! Suspense! Action!—all three jam packed this year's operetta, "The Mocking Bird," presented in March.

The setting is eighteenth century New Orleans, and the plot revolves around espionage in the form of an underground movement against Spanish invasion. The French patriots band together under the leadership of Manon, "The Mocking Bird," played by Carmen Henderson. Together with Bob Finchley, a fighting Virginian played by John Stewart, and Jean (Paul Caringella) Le Farge, she manages to save New Orleans for France.

No operetta is complete without a love triangle and this has one that is exceptionally entertaining. The triangle exists among Eugene De Lorme, dashing young Frenchman played by Chuck Hodell, Maxime Grandpre, a wealthy citizen (Tony Rogers) and pretty, demure Yvette Millet (Linda Cox). Supporting roles were taken by Carol Ouellette, Dolores Nazionale, Mary Silvas, and chorus groups of more than one hundred extras.

THE KIDNAPPING OF GOVERNOR AUBREY backfires as bandits seize Maxime (Tony Rogers) while Eugene (Chuck Hodell), watches with glee.

"CAPTAIN BELOIT REPORTING, SIR" echoes Bill Cahill during a dramatic scene in the suspense-filled operetta.

CHRISTMAS

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly"

Christmas spirit at PCH was sparked by caroling seniors and student thespians. The auditorium reverberated with a festive mood as the drama class presented an original three act play, "The Christmas Story," written by Michaeline Solters, Carol Ouellette and Marilyn Arnone. Included in the preparation for Yuletide merriment was the Sodality Advent wreath ceremony conducted during the pre-Christmas season. "Peace on earth, good will to men," was the keynote of the spirit of the school as PCHers gathered canned foods which were presented in red-ribboned baskets to eleven needy families of the parish. With the three o'clock bell on the 14th of December, Spartans adjourned for two weeks of holiday heaven.

SENIOR CLASS CAROLERS hang boughs of holly on classroom doors as red balls and silver bells jingle in the hands of artistically-inclined girls, Carol O'Hearn, Kathy Gavran, Emily Haines, Linda Cox, Carole Meyers and Mary Jo Stein, robe the ten-foot Christmas tree in holiday garment.

ONE HUNDRED FOUR seniors scattered Christmas joy as they sang carols through the halls of Pomona Catholic.

DANCES

accent the gaiety of social school events

No less than fifteen dances were enthusiastically attended by Pomona Catholic students, marking one of the most successful years, socially, in PCH history. In November, the Homecoming Dance came, and with it the coronation of Marlene McDonald as queen of the event. "Winter Wonderland," the senior Christmas formal, was overflowing with holiday fun seekers. The "Turkey Trot," sponsored by the Sophomore Class; the Key Club triumph "Fiesta Dance," and the Junior Class activity in honor of Saint Patrick were social as well as financial successes. The Sodality Ball as well as the Junior-Senior Prom, which was the pinnacle of the PCH social scene, brought delightful memories long to be cherished by graduated Spartans. The Rainbow Angling Club was the destination of the Prom-goers who danced to the melodies of the Stardusters.

BILL PARISH and Honora Warner became the King and Queen of Hearts at the annual GAA Backwards Dance.

GRADUATION RITES

close four years of unfading memories

Twenty junior girls, in pastel shade formals, and holding the traditional ivy garlands, led the class of '56 to the sanctuary of the new St. Joseph's Church in the seventh annual commencement exercises at Pomona Catholic. The newly appointed auxiliary bishop, Most Rev. Alden Bell, of Los Angeles, presented the diplomas to the graduates.

Special recognition was given to gold cup winners Michael Butler, "Outstanding Senior of the Year," and Diane Rowden, who won the award as top student of religion. Rosalynne Holmquist and Mary Ann Costello were the Bank of America achievement award recipients.

Commencement day began with a solemn High Mass at which the school Glee Club sang the "Missa Stella Matutina" by Vito Carnevali. A breakfast hosted by the sophomore class in the school cafeteria, was climaxed with addresses given by class valedictorian, Marsha Loubet, and salutatorian, Martin Cullen.

An evening dinner party held after the graduation exercises was sponsored by parents of the graduates at the Ebell Club.

GRIDIRON FEATS

BRUISING, bone crushing action, the exhilarating feeling of competition and struggle, of a game well played, a victory hard earned; these all played a part in Pomona Catholic's 1957 football history. Under the tutelage of two new mentors, Mr. Farley Day and Mr. Herb Adams, this year's edition started the season with a rush, survived a rocky spell in midseason, and finished with a burst of power.

ABOVE: Coach Herb Adams urges on two of the Spartans' top backs Ken Clark and Alban Moreno. At right Bob Bartel upended by St. John lineman. The Spartans captured a thrilling 19-14 win. Below is Moreno racking up precious yardage against Mater Dei. The Monarchs finally won, 20-0, over a Spartan eleven that would not quit.

Coaches Day and Adams molded the green eleven, which had only four lettermen to start with, into a winning unit right from the start. At Barstow in the season opener the gridders rallied in the last minutes to post a heart-throbbing 7-6 victory.

SPARTANS IN ACTION

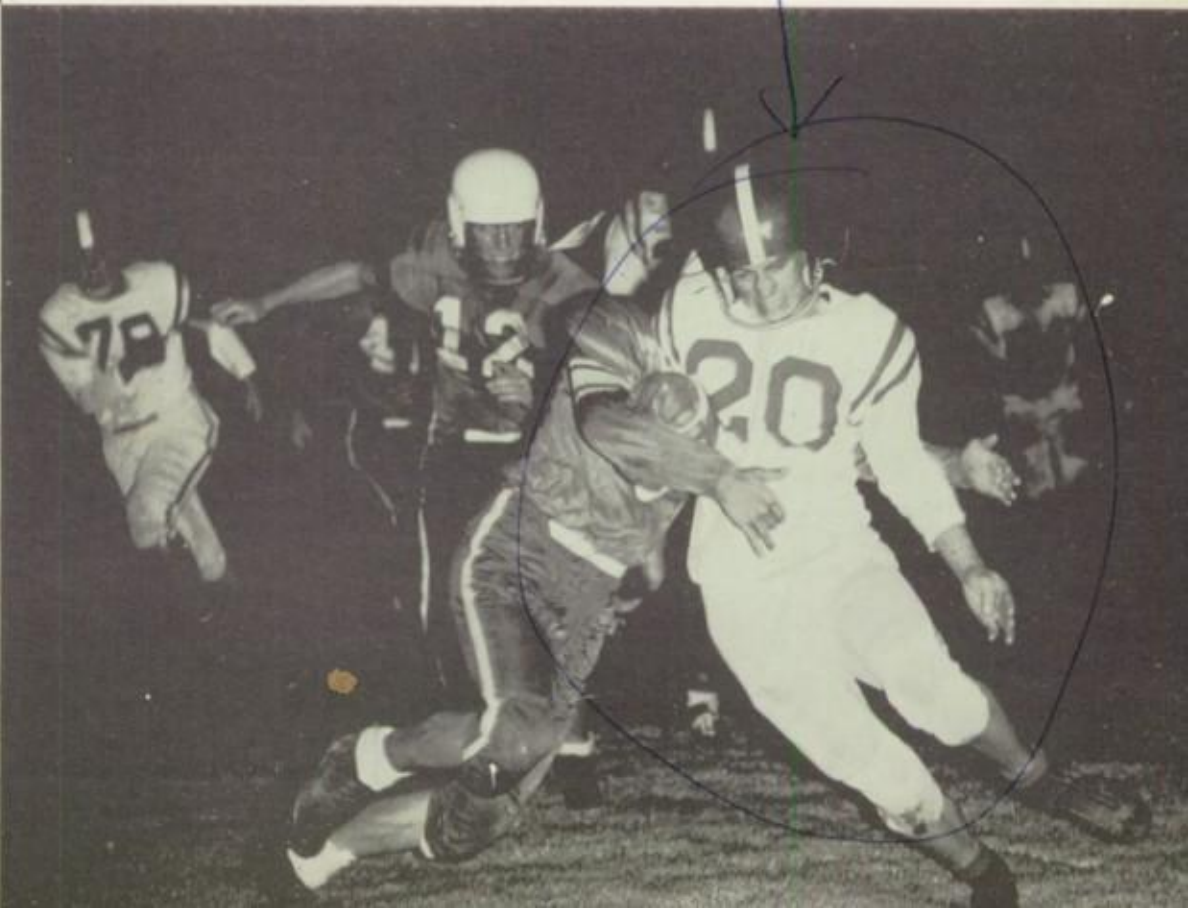

The next week they met a rough and ready Yuma crew but succumbed 12-6 only after a tooth and nail struggle. Returning home the Spartans played their first tie in three years, holding highly touted St. Augustine to but six points while scoring six themselves. The Spartans then met their three toughest opponents and the outcome was almost disasterous.

LARRY LUVISI, fleet footed Spartan end shown above eluding clutches of St. Augustine foe. Luvisi scored the only touchdown of the game. At left Jim Gill turns the corner for a 45 yard jaunt against Mission in Homecoming. Below Crosby Nagengasi being halted in Covina. This game was the gritty junior's last as he suffered an injury that held him out for the remainder of the campaign.

After meeting defeat on all three successive weekends, including a 20-0 loss at the hands of CIF champions Mater Dei, Pomona Catholic sprang back and went on to win their remaining trio of outings, culminating the season with a 38-18 rout of Mary Star.

KEN CLARK brought down after short gain against Mater Dei. Monarchs triumphed 20-0 and went on to win the CIF crown. Clark, a steady 180 lb. all around back, later was named to the second string All-Parochial League back and the Spartans' Most Versatile player.

Junior Varsity

JIM WILLIAMS, likable sophomore Bee back, laid low in late season game. Williams was one of the cogs which started the junior Spartans rolling to four straight wins at the tail end of the campaign.

BASKETBALL

cagers set new mark

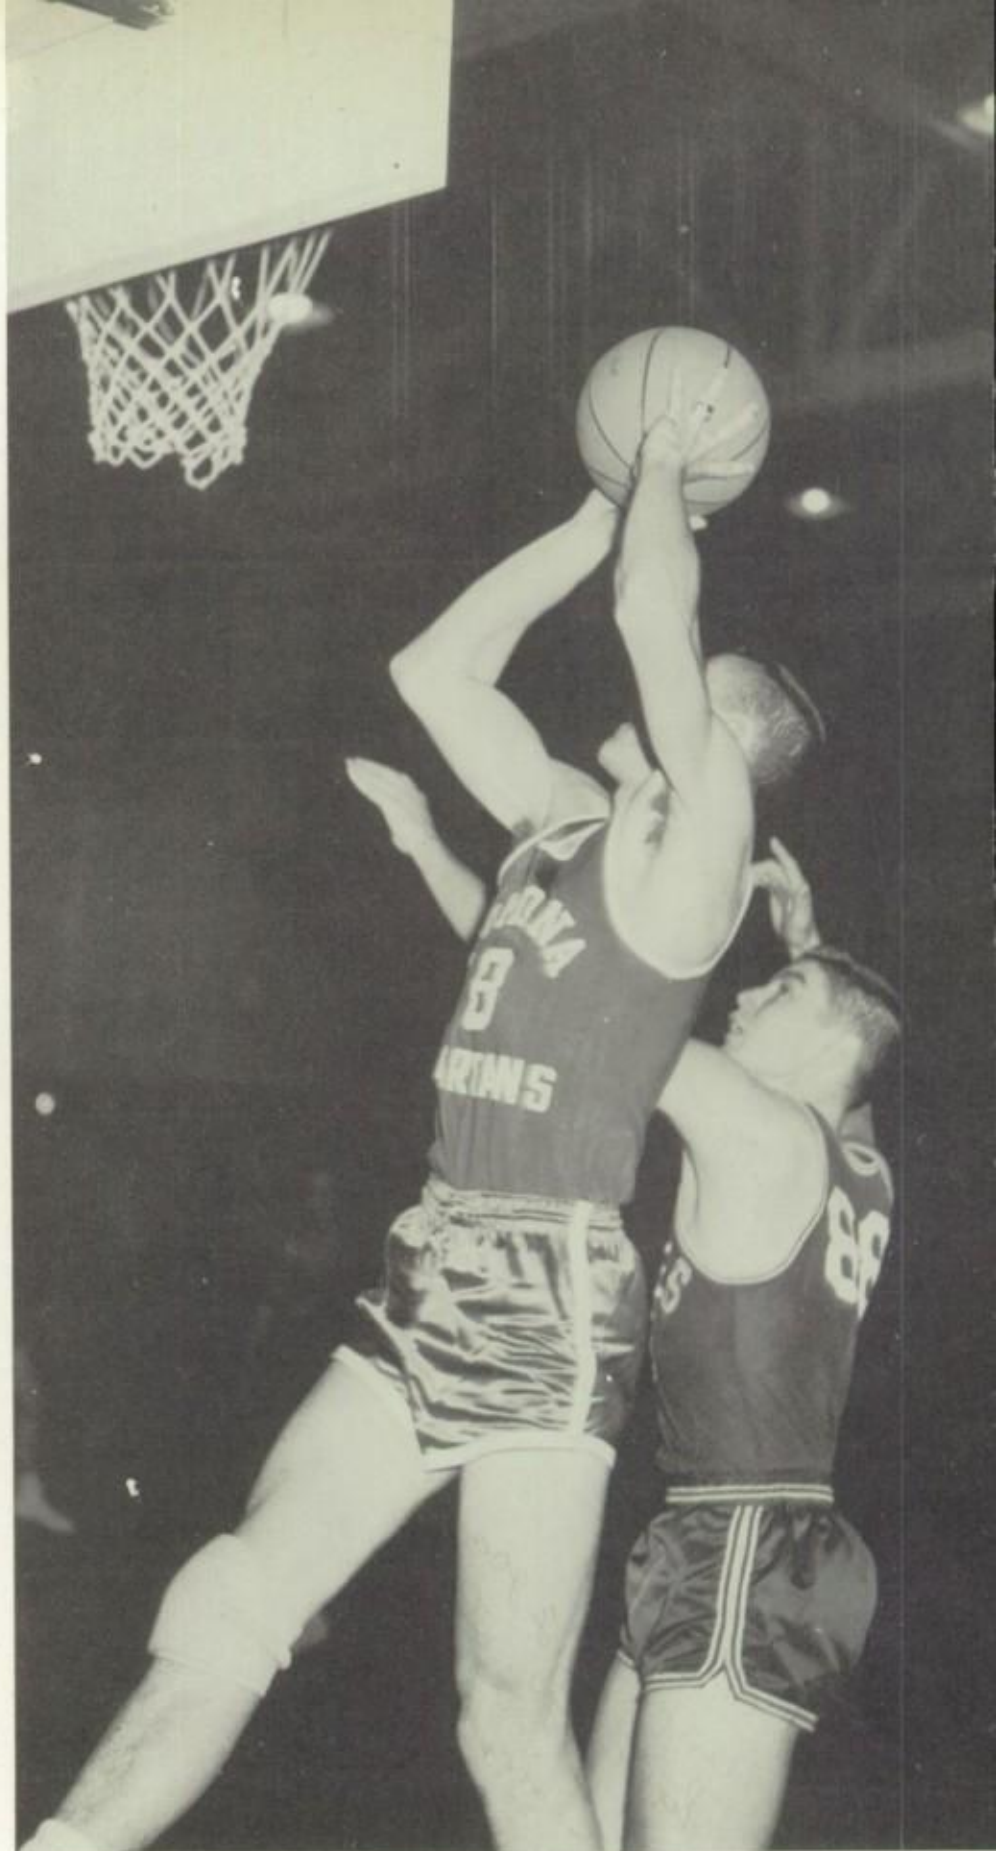

1957 was a banner year for Pomona Catholic basketball as the varsity swept to a record seasonal total of nine, the previous mark was six set by the 1953 five.

Coached by Mr. Cal Stewart, a smooth cage tutor from the Southwest, the team included four victories in league play in their total.

The squad faced rough going in the early season, running into more experienced foes, but the team jelled at new year to play top ball.

High marks were reached in wins against Mater Dei 51-42, St. Francis 45-40, Mary Star 48-40, and St. John Vianney 53-25. Probably the acme of the season was attained February 22, when for the first time in five years the varsity emerged on the long end of the court against the faculty.

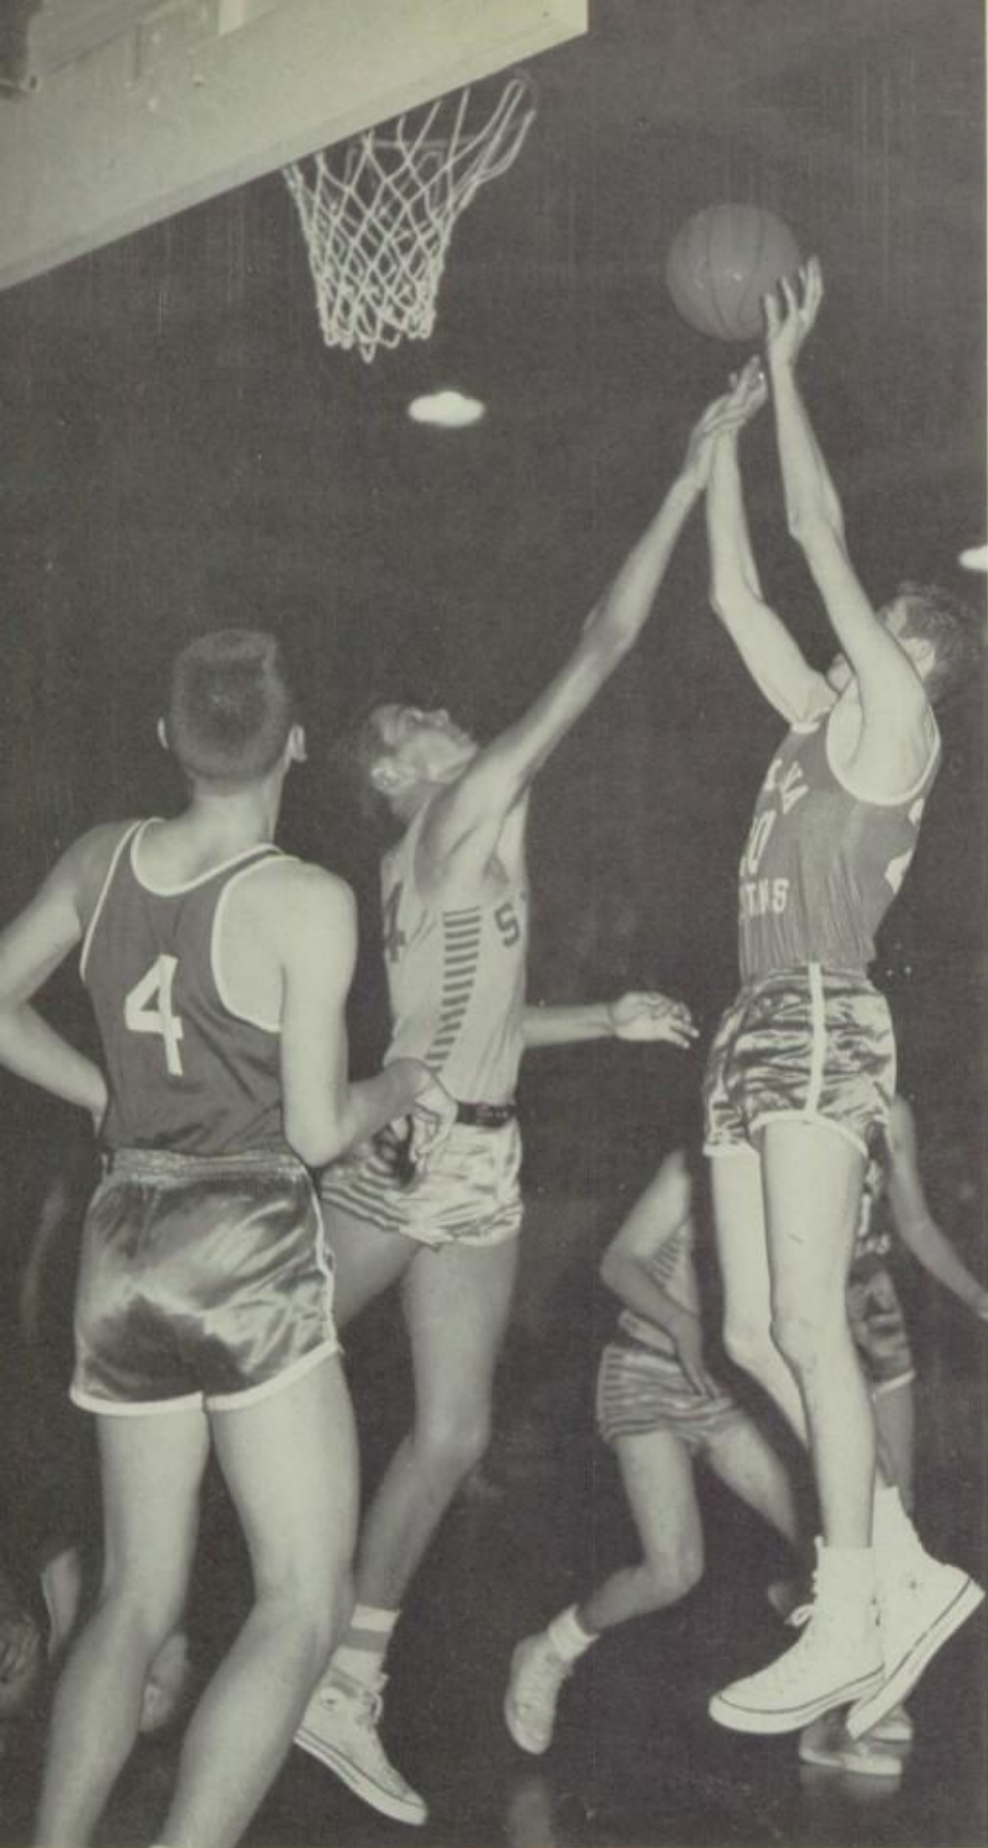

This year's aggregation was led by Mike Lassalette, a 6-2 senior who was the unanimous choice of the Parochial League's coaches as center and was tabbed as the loop's Most Valuable Player. Lassalette was later named to the all CIF's small school second string.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Father James Murphy—motivating force behind Spartan athletics

Scheduling games, arranging for uniforms, purchasing equipment, hiring coaches, going to meetings—this is a full time job for any man, but our own Father Murphy has combined these tasks with his duties as a priest, counselor and teacher. How admirably he has succeeded is evident from our tremendous athletic plant which is one of the most adequate in the Parochial League and probably the best in Southern California. Each year he organizes the barbecue which is the only source of revenue for the athletic fund. For this end he must rally the support of parishioners and townsmen alike. In victory or defeat the Spartans have had and always will have a winner in Father Murphy.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Feminine athletes participate in volleyball, basketball, and softball.

SCENE OF GIRLS at play on baseball diamond with Mrs. Margaret Marti umpiring behind pitcher's mound.

GIRLS also utilized their activities period to participate in sports. Here is a typical shot of a torrid volleyball contest.

During 1956-1957 girls of Pomona Catholic enjoyed a varied and interesting program of athletics. The person who was chiefly responsible for the renaissance in girls' sports was Mrs. Margaret Marti. Mrs. Marti has been the girls' Physical Education instructor and adviser of the Girls' Athletic Association for two years. Girls participated in inter-scholastic games besides carrying an intensive program of intramural competition, both in the P.E. classes and during the activities period. During the various seasons, teams were organized which practiced after school. These teams included volleyball, basketball, and softball. The seasons were culminated at banquets, where awards were received for achievements and all participants were given letters.

EACH SPORTS SEASON at Pomona Catholic is, by tradition, closed with a banquet where sports achievements are rewarded. Shown above are Joe Stupey and Larry LuVisi receiving Most Improved trophy for track. Below is Jay Keyes receiving Most Valuable Bee football trophy for 1956 from head coach Cal Stewart. Other Bee winners were John Silvas, "Most Improved," and Jim Williams, "Most Sportsmanlike." After enjoying a chicken dinner on December 14, the Spartans listened to Mike Pecarovich of St. Anthony's High who spoke about football spirit.

Under the leadership of President, George Thoemmes, the Junior Class of 1957 began to shape itself into a closely-knit group of upperclassmen, in spite of their fluctuating fortunes in acquiring permanent faculty advisers.

A class gift of a rostrum for the school auditorium marked the first of many expressions of school spirit which prevailed in the Junior Class. Another evidence of this loyalty was the performance of the Junior Class Booster Club whose behind-the-scene support of games and rallies infused into the students the urge to participate enthusiastically in school activities.

At shamrock time, a Junior-sponsored Saint Patrick dance increased the tempo of school activities, which served, as did the Junior-Senior Prom, as a royal farewell for the Seniors. The latter was a truly great social if not completely a financial success.

Stepping into the shoes of their spirited predecessors, the Class of '58 aimed at the repetition of unparalleled achievements of the dynamic Class of '57.

CLASS OF 1959

Plunging vigorously into their second installment of high school life, the Sophomore Class of 1957 took over their duties and responsibilities with election of class officers in September. Dave Peters, class prexy, led Pat Orselli, Dave Cissell and John Heieck as the executive branch of the spirited sophomores. Committees under the leadership of Pat Conforti spurred the sophomores to launch their first overwhelming success—"Harvest Hop" in October, enticing fellow students to the event by raffling a full-blooded American turkey to a lucky winner—Michael Rush. The class topped a high mark in scholarship by representing the majority in the 1957 honor roll. Added to their scholastic achievement, the sophomores displayed dramatic talents in the "Mocking Bird" which brought raves for the performances of Maureen Greene and Richard Barbazette, sophomores in good standing. Finishing the year in the traditional sophomore style, the class bid good-bye to the seniors of '57 by a tantalizing breakfast and a fond farewell.

The baffling world of classes, home-rooms, and hall guards opened its portals to the mighty Frosh, 242 strong. Equipped with aggressive spirit, the new-fledged freshmen plunged into the high school whirlpool by casting ballots for class officers.

Supplied with spunk, the Spartan-minded group made their presence known as they left their indelible brand on student drives and projects.

A touch of initiative was evident as the power-packed Freshmen hopped aboard the social merry-go-round with the February 2 Freshmen frolics.

An equally ardent spirit was climaxed by a gift of a Luna holder to the P.C.H. chapel altar, during the Lenten season.

Completing the Freshman agenda was their sendoff to the graduating class, with a movie and refreshments.

Hi Judy!
Well here it is the end of another school year. See, we sure had loads of fun in our sophomore year. I hope we have lots more fun next year. You are a real sweet girl. I'll think of you this summer.

Dear Judi, (Puggy)

This has really been a swell year don't you agree? It has been neat knowing you and I've had loads of fun with you especially during football season. That was sure kicks! You are the neatest cheerleader (no foolin!) I sure wish we could cheer again next season together but we know how "crooked" that school is. But for sure next year. That's when we'll wear our neat outfits! (we got such good ideas, you know) Well, enough of that.

Holly, Judi, I hope we can be good friends for a long time cuz I really do think you're swell. It's been fun messing around in that ol' homeroom of ours. (with all those neat lookin boys ????) Maybe next year I'll have you in some of my classes & not just in homeroom. It would pretty neat if we could "all" get the same lunch & the same classes for a change.

I hope we can have more slumber parties this summer cuz that one was neat. If I could only drive I would get the car & go take you guys to the beach & every place to mess around! Just wait, I'll learn & show you, smarty! Just cuz you can drive doesn't mean anything.

Judi, I'm sure happy for you & Crosby. You too make about the neatest couple. I wish you all the luck in the world with him. He sure does like you alot so don't you dare let go of him. There's too many other girls after him. But they won't get him while you're around. As long as you stay as cute & sweet as you are you'll keep Crosby (& all the rest of THEM) just keep your little puggy hands off my "little man". He's mine, mine, mine? Oh well, well skip that. Well, I guess it's the end of the line. See good to Crosby.

Love & Stuff,
Bitt.

Many Best Wishes
In The Coming Year.
You, ARE A CUTE ONE

Judy. Well here it is, graduation, and I've known you and the rest of the sophomore girls for two years. We have had our ups and downs, I was mad at you and vice versa but I don't think any of us were really angry for more than a little while. To be honest I have had more fun bawling you and all the other than any other girls I have ever known. Next year you will finally be upper classmen and I'll start all over again as a lawly freshman. Of the few things I will miss in high school it will be not having you and the rest to give trouble. If I have done anything that you might have thought was an insult or anything like that it was just in fun or a misworded phrase. All I can wish you is all the best and I hope you make it with C.H.

Well this year is almost over. I'm sure glad we got together this year. I hope ~~we'll~~ ^{you'll} always be ~~is~~ ^{"my best"} ~~good~~ friends. I can honestly say that I think that you are the cutest girl in our class. Gee Judy, we've really had a ball this year. The beach, the slumber party, horseback riding & cheerleading. Boo had we didn't get it. I really love to cheer at games with you. We both cheer for Juniors (G. & C.). I guess we'll have to join the Lonely - Cheerleaders Club. ha. I wish you all the luck in the world with Crosby. He's a doll & you two make a darling couple. I'm hoping you get all you're after because you surely deserve the best. (Crosby) May God bless & keep you always. Your pal "59"
(P.S. Don't sweat the writing) always, Judy C.H.
